Sunday, 19 January 2025: 10 a.m. - 2 p.m.

Edouard Michelin Auditorium, Alliance Française of Madras

24 College Road, Nungambakkam, Chennai 600 006

“Indian Constitution and Gandhism: A perspective”

Talk by Veteran Freedom Fighter

Shri. Lakshmikanthan Bharathi

“Storm Troopers at Outpost Bhatti”

Book Launch by Kargil War Veteran

Lieutenant Colonel Sada Peter

Shri. Lakshmikanthan Bharathi: Stalwart Freedom Fighter from his student days, who was jailed for his fiery participation in the Quit India Movement of 1942 and, later after independence, had had an illustrious career as an IAS Officer, as a nonagenarian retiree now, continues his tireless efforts to promote Gandhian ideals. He takes us through the most defining moments of the creation of Indian Constitution and the Gandhian views on it.

Lieutenant Colonel Sada Peter: Veteran of the Kargil War, who saw frontline action as a Rocket Detachment Commander and had had vast experience as an Artillery Fire Controller and Observer Pilot during his army career, has brought forth a first-hand account of the war through a fast-paced literary debut he has penned. He speaks about the book and gives rare insights into a war that defined India's military potential of the 1990s.

(The 4-hour session will have a refreshment break midway)
